

PILOT

through our friends we'll tell . . .

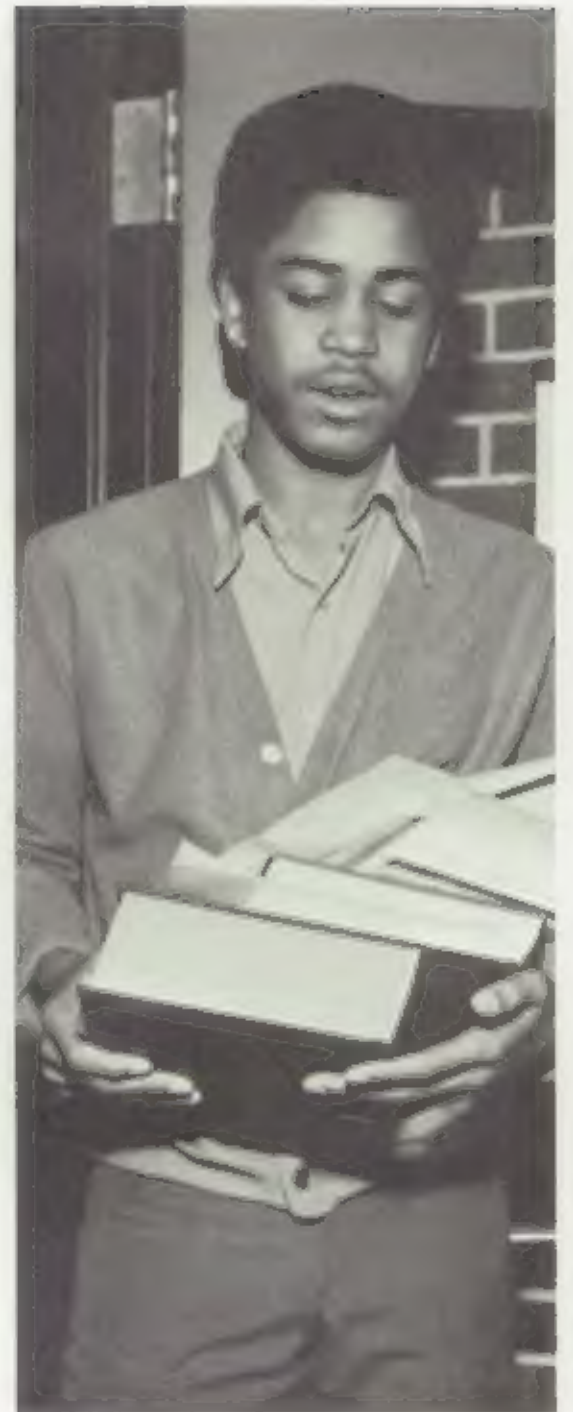

the experiences

I REMEMBER the first day I arrived here,
Sitting in a classroom,
Which took 15 minutes to find.
Smiling at people I never saw before
Looking at my teachers, not knowing
What they expected of me.
I wondered, had I chosen the right school.
I REMEMBER the pins that didn't fit
And the mislaid corners that didn't stay
And those long cold walks to Wright
Again I wondered.
I REMEMBER the first joke played on me,
The first pep rally,
The first basketball game we won-my pride,
And my decision to join a school club.
When I realized the school spirit.
And I still wonder.
And as time passed and the years rolled by,
The prom is over and graduation here,
I wonder and remember all these first days
And I know,
I chose the right school.

hard work

Life for me ain't been no crystal stair
I had my days with tacks--
Doing homework, research, term papers--no fun
And splinters--wind coming from a broken window
That was never fixed.

The green grass carpet of the fields was cold
Bare, when my face was pushed in the mud,
in the gym class, but all the time,
I kept on trying.
Climbing those stairs, steadily reaching
My landing, my goals.

Turning corners, going into the dark, when
I couldn't understand my homework for the day.
But I never turned back,
I didn't want to stumble or fall.

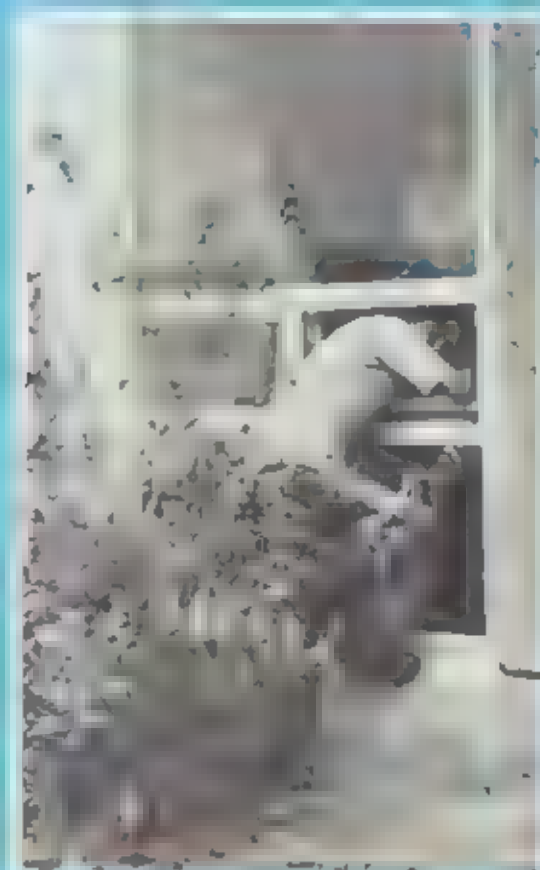

I'm still climbing and reaching the landings,
Making the very last steps...to graduations...
And then where?

But it's not easy,
No, life for me ain't been no crystal stair.

Lean on me when you're not strong

One day in the life of a high school principal isn't always easy. Papers to sign, phones to answer, requisitions to fill, parent-teacher conferences to attend, keeping the students and teachers happy, eliminating theft in the building, enrolling new students, making commencement speeches, scheduling the courses for the term, and briefing all new 9th- and 10th-graders on school policy. But at 5:15 the school day ends. Or does it? Board meetings to attend, night activities to come to...

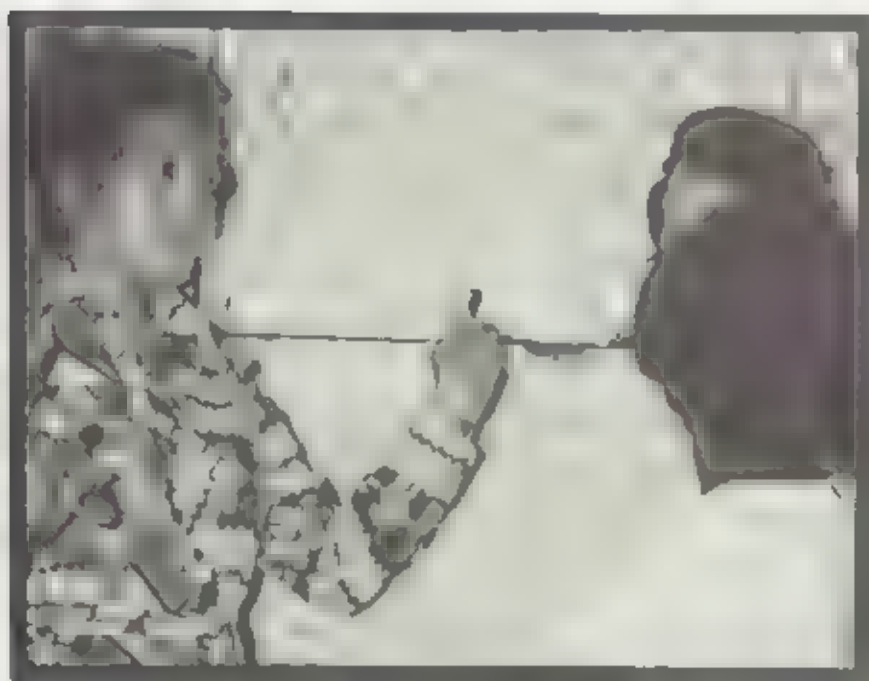

We'll be your friends We'll help you carry on

When Mr. Boyce's circuit gets over-loaded, he has three assistants to help him carry out his many duties. Each one is willing to take time out to help students resolve personal problems or give them a needed vacation from school.

To help locate the assistants, follow this directory: Mr. Richards, primarily on hall sweeps; Mr. Frey, usually helping students get home or eat; and Mrs. White, TCB (taking care of business) in the Wright Building.

Reading center draws smiles

proves reading can be fun

Reading class, ugh! Same old boring stories, everybody works together, right? Wrong. Everyday, something different and exciting is happening in reading class.

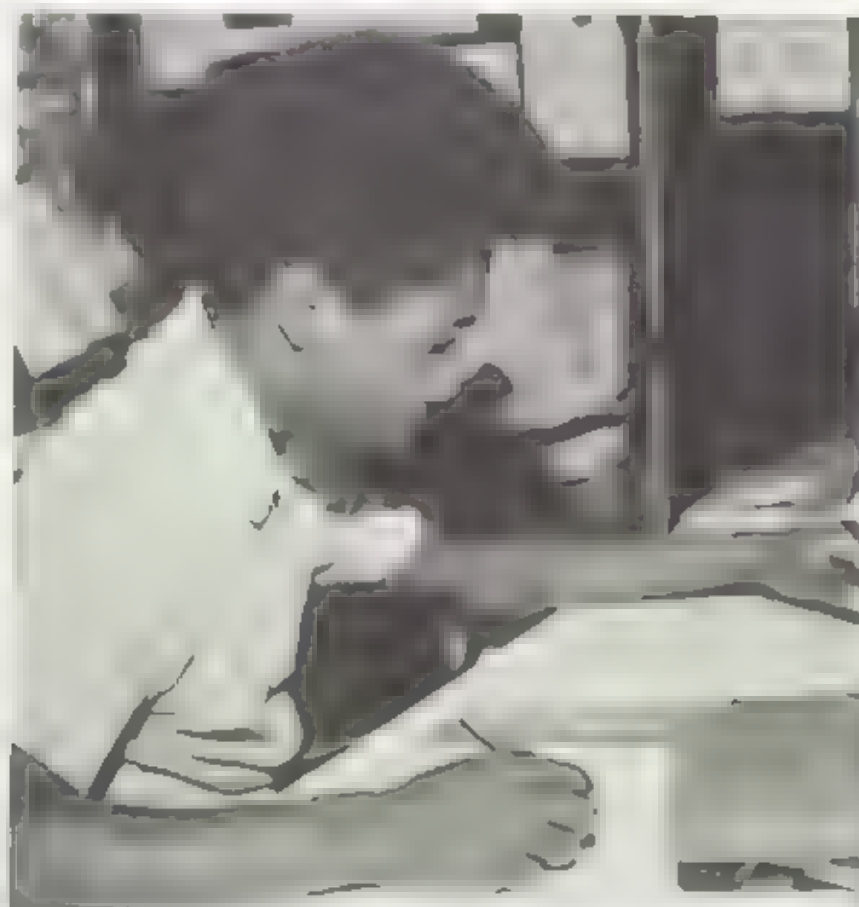

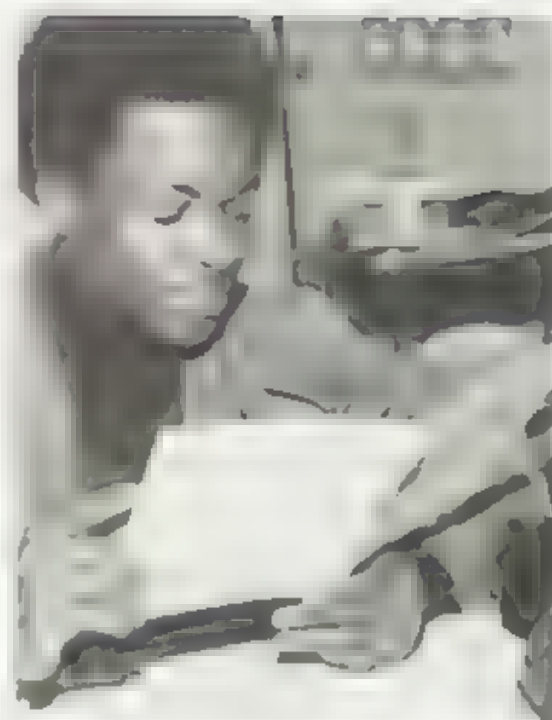

MONDAY brings SCOPE skillbooks, such as SPRINT which teaches you to be a real speed reader.

TUESDAY is individual help day. You get help in whatever is ailing you. Also, you can work out of the WE ARE BLACK KIT.

WEDNESDAY is phonics day. What's that? That's learning the letter sounds. Master that and you can pronounce any word in the English language, imagine that!

THURSDAY is "What do you think?" That means you can express your own feelings.

FRIDAY is crosswords, games, and SCOPE Magazine day. WOW, that's reading too. No, reading class is not dull and boring.

Poet and dancers combine talent
An expression of feeling and creativity

Is it real
What I feel
Am I wrong
Who has the answer
Does anybody know

Where I'm coming from
What can I do
to make it known
to let this love
Building up inside
of me rush out

sets mood for elective English offerings

Do I give a smile
Do I nod my head
Just a wee bit

Drama and speech on the go

Demonstration speeches, broadcasts, commercials, impromptus, humorous readings...being afraid to get up and give your speech...everyone is looking at you...you stumble when getting out of your seat...you stumble over every word...someone giggles...your face gets hot...you look at the teacher...she isn't smiling...your first speech...a huge success...this is speech class. Make-up, character development...staging...productions...laugh-ins...these are the ingredients that make up a drama class...You can be anyone you want to be.

Cosmetology students get practical experience by working with patrons after they have enough knowledge and skill to do so.

There's more to cosmetology than styling

COSMETOLOGY

Pin curls, rollers, styling, perms and manicures are all the fundamentals in Cosmetology. It helps your appearance. You experience having patrons. You learn the latest hair styles; corn braids, French braids, naturals and shags. The students have the opportunity for jobs after the course is completed.

Manicuring is the art of beautifying the hands and the nails. It is one of the many things taught in cosmetology.

... to an exciting field of medicine

Health Service Training is one of the most successful and promising vocational courses offered in the public schools today. Much stress is put on H.S.T. students to encourage duty and responsibilities of holding a good job. The students not only learn various skills out of books, but they also practice these skills. They learn T.P.R., bed-making skills, asepsis, dietary skills, and many other tasks needed to work in a hospital. There is a strict dress code to abide by, such as white polished, buffed shoes, light runless stockings, inconspicuous jewelry or none at all. As seniors, students work at different hospitals as co-op students and gain valuable work experiences. Some of the hospitals that they may work at are: Sinai, Ziegler, Harper, Henry Ford, to make our students more prepared to enter the medical field.

The Murray-Wright Child Development Laboratory for training child care assistants is exactly what its name suggests- a training center. It is a unique program designed to give students an opportunity to work in pre-school and elementary programs. Through this study, students can gain a better understanding of the process of growth and development from conception to school age.

Students who successfully complete the 1st. and 2nd. phase of the program are encouraged to implement their experience through co-op, which is designed to recognize the value of work experience.

Student activities are many. They focus on developing techniques for guiding children. Some of the activities include: observing children, entertaining children, guiding children in play activities, selecting and preparing food and clothing, and viewing movies and films with children.

Murray Wright's Pilots had lost all their games in the season and things were looking pretty bad for them until they met up Mumford's Mustangs. Murray ran the game smoothly with Raymond Prince running a two yard touchdown in the first quarter. The teams were held scoreless until the final quarter when the winning touchdown was set-up on a 15 yard sweep ran by Alfred Denis to the 5-yard line where Raymond Prince carried the ball for a touchdown. The conversion failed. The final score was a 14-8, a victory for Murray.

It's a hard run for Greg Joseph trying to beat the ball to third.

Waiting in anticipation for a strike, Russell Herring lets this one pass.

UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen stick together

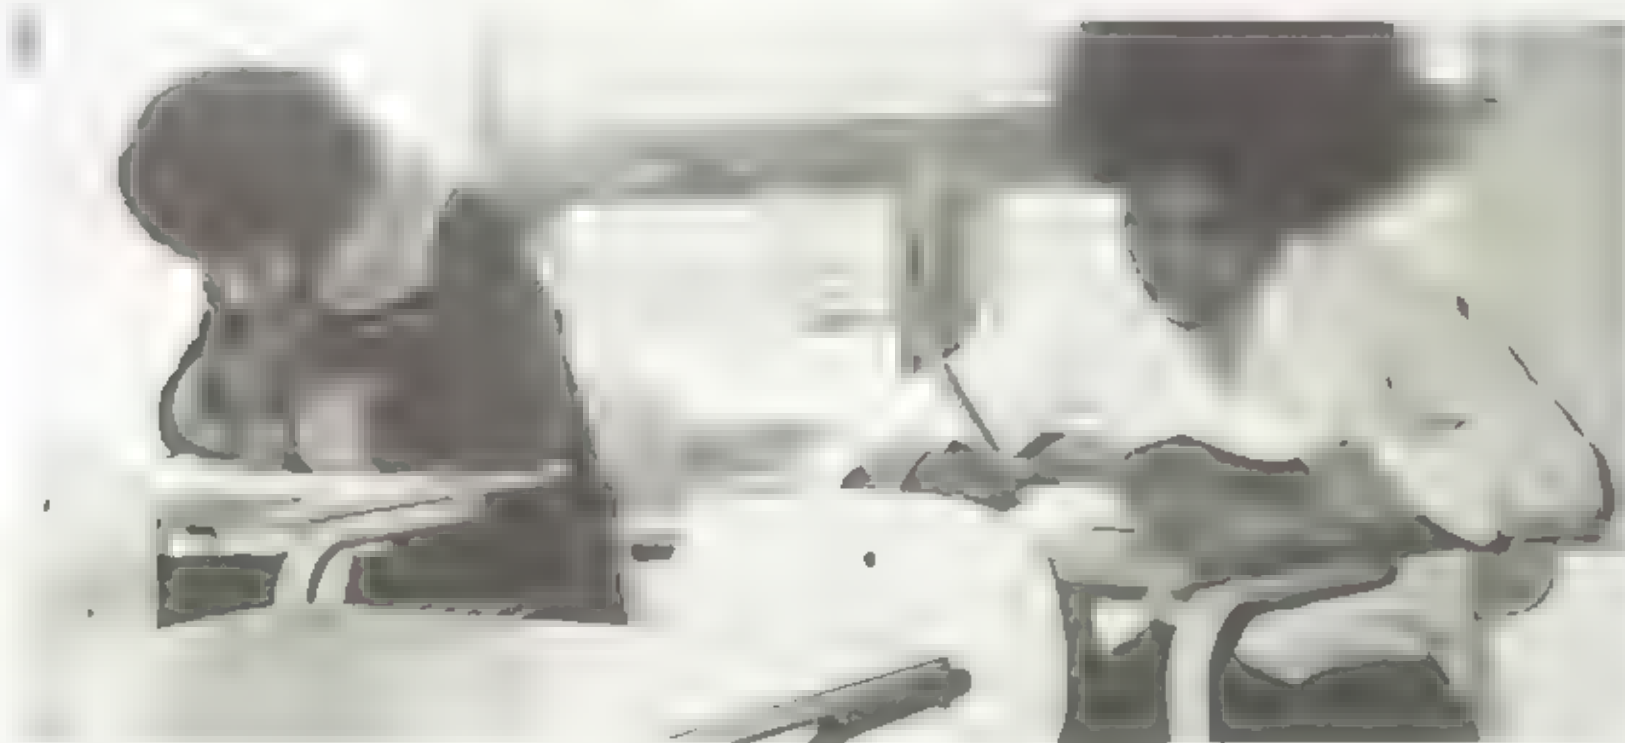

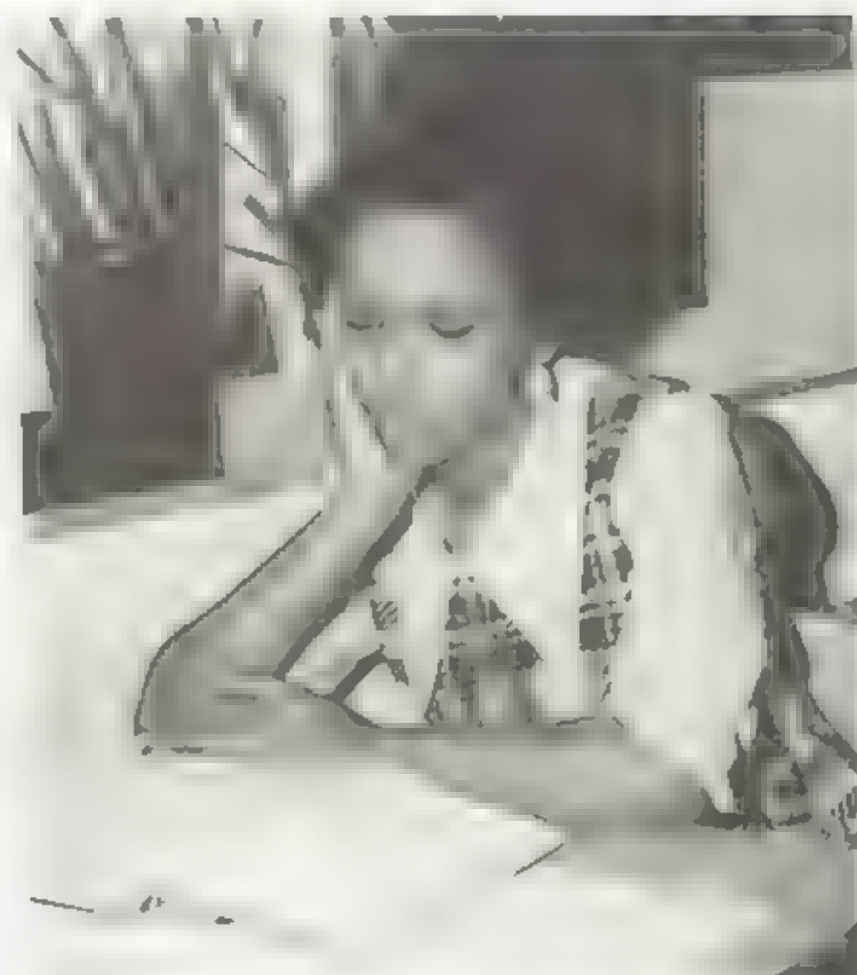

Sticking together means supporting each other in gym class, sharing a sense of ethnocentricity, and helping a baffled friend in biology class. Sometimes sticking together means having someone to walk down the hall with, coordinating a dance, or just sticking together with yourself and nature.

How many more final exams . . .

STUDY...STUDY...STUDY... The last minute cram is on! There are many faces that studying takes on. Ponce Sator (TOP LEFT) feels confident that he has it all under control, while Arneata Crawford (TOP RIGHT) feels mental fatigue setting in. Calvin Armstrong (L) and Percy Banks (R) both attempt to tackle the subject in their own ways.

... until I am a senior?

"I don't see it as stealing was, 'enough it seems as for me and why asks 'can I get a little help from a friend?'"

"Just two more questions and it will all be over, thanks Kevin Wilson."

Participation is the key word for student government — dances, conferences, clean-ups

STUDENT GOVERNMENT meets daily to discuss problems and pose possible solutions. To arrive at a solution acceptable to the administration and the student body, it takes give and take on both sides. In this case (l-r) Terry Parker, Mary White, Colby Lewis, Robert King and other student government members listen as Mr. Boyce voices his opinion.

(I-R) Mada Taylor, Felix Williams, and Karen Brown participate in clean-up day sponsored by the student government.

Being a letterman does not only mean being a good athlete, but also showing cooperation when working as a part of a team. Sometimes it means knowing how to take criticism from the coach.

Booster rush — a fun experience

RUSHING FOR THE BOOSTER CLUB IS...

Having a big sister, wearing braids, rolled up pants, wearing your grandmother's or grandfather's clothes, being the onle one in class with red lipstick and rouge on, cleaning your big sister's shoes off, collecting 200 pennies, running down the hall saying 'I'm a booster rooster,' being the only rushee in the lunchroom surrounded by 20 big sisters, running with a raw egg in your mouth and having it crack. Best of all, knowing that next term, you will be a big sister, can buy a booster sweater, and cheer for the Pilots with the rest of your booster sisters.

Being patient

What is patience?

Patience is being able to wait without ever becoming tired or disgusted. Whether waiting for an answer, person, a job, an invitation or a visit from a friend, the principle is still the same. It is not only being able to wait, but being able to accept the outcome of the waiting. For example... Getting ready to go to homecoming...being a homecoming contestant...hoping to win...but waiting. Not knowing exactly what is going through the judges minds. Oh Boy! This really requires patience...or if your girlfriend went into the lavatory to fix her hair or make-up and she asked you to wait for her and while standing there waiting you're wondering if its really worth the wait. Patience is also what a teacher must have sometimes to explain and re-explain a difficult concept. Being patient is sometimes hard.

Never feeling alone

that with the same.

Making someone smile

Sharing warmth and a moment of our lives

Life can be compared to the changing of the seasons

Today we are in the summer of our lives

We walk boldly in a world that we are too young to vote in

We walk without a voice but not without spirit

Not without an open mind and not without the knowledge

We have gained at Murray-Wright

We have not yet voted down school millage or have a say in abortion

Yet we will live with the results

We only hope that when it is our time to make decisions

We will know what direction to follow

Today we have our friends to make us feel warm and loved

And although our school days are but a moment in the total years of our lives, we are glad to have spent them at

Murray-Wright High School

Look in Murray-Wright

True friendship is rare, but around Murray-Wright you'll find a friend to do almost anything with. You'll find a friend to buy you an ice cream cone, or some potato chips at Snoopy's Dugout. You'll find a friend to sit by in class, to take you to the homecoming dance, to be your partner in the water balloon toss, or to keep your school in running order.

And you will find a friend

It has been our pleasure

to serve

Be prepared for the dropout.

Do you know how many boys dropped out — year. Not just from school, but from society? Do you know that many of them had never experienced "work" in their lives? That they had absolutely no way of knowing the satisfaction one can get from a job?

Did you know that Scouting offers boys a chance to learn about mechanics, electronics, printing, radio, salesmanship, surveying, textiles and even zoology?

Did you know that when we asked boys what they thought was most fun about Scouting, they said hiking and camping outdoors? But when we asked them what they thought was most important about Scouting they said "to help you be prepared for life."

Did you know that for every boy in Scouting there's another boy who'd like to be "but can't"? And the reason most of them can't is because no adult in the neighborhood thinks Scouting's worth the time?

If you don't think Scouting's worth your time you don't know enough about Scouting.

Scouting today's a lot more than you think.
